Bethel Receives Substantial Donation from The Sunderland Foundation

Bethel Neighborhood Center (BNC) is excited to announce a significant gift from The Sunderland Foundation in support of the BNC capital campaign to build a health and wellness center gymnasium onsite at 14 S. 7th St. in Kansas City, Kansas. This Foundation has awarded BNC a $400,000 grant, which brings the campaign's total funds raised to $779,628.86. The Sunderland Foundation, a leading philanthropic partner, is known for supporting construction and special interest projects that allow nonprofits to expand and fulfill their missions.

For the past 111 years, BNC has been dedicated to empowering individuals to achieve a renewed sense of hope, wellness, and self-sufficiency. This mission is at the heart of the campaign to make health and wellness programs available to residents around the Bethel Neighborhood Center. Statistically, residents in Wyandotte County have ranked among the worst counties in the state of Kansas for health and life expectancy. Bethel has worked diligently to collaborate with several nonprofits in Kansas City, Kansas, to address the health, social, and economic needs of immigrants and refugees who are the most difficult group to reach in Wyandotte County.

The new space will allow Bethel to provide indoor recreation and exercise programs; hold community health fairs, clinics, and education seminars; offer multi-use event space to strengthen community ties; and provide an emergency shelter.

Sandra Olivas, Bethel board member and community development officer at First Federal Bank of Kansas City, said the board is thrilled to see this new initiative come to fruition. "On behalf of our Bethel Board, we are so grateful to The Sunderland Foundation for the generous financial support of our project to improve the lives of Bethel families," Olivas said. We can't wait to see the new gymnasium filled with smiling children playing sports and our senior citizens enjoying daily exercise programs. Thank you for believing that everyone, regardless of economic limitations, deserves a chance to live a healthy and happy life."

In recent months, we also received significant donations from the Love family, the Kansas Baptist Convention Foundation, the American Baptist Women of Central Region, and The Barton P. & Mary D. Cohen Charitable Trust. We are thrilled and are very grateful to all of you for your generosity. Our dream will become a reality in the near future. It is very encouraging for us to have your support in the work we do. You all have given us the motivation and encouragement we need to work daily with our community members in the after school program, senior program, sewing class, food pantry, and other activities and services we do in our city. We count on you and your prayer and financial support.

For more about the good work of Bethel Neighborhood Center, visit bethelcenter.org.

We welcome and encourage others to join in as we strive to reach our capital campaign goal of $1.3 million.

We get a lot of good questions from people who read Central Region Life. Questions about church, our Bible, the Region or Pastoral life. We lost a part of our connectedness during COVID, so let's start talking again. We have a Lord who is to be praised and Gospel to share, a community that needs ministry, and a world desperately in need of answers.

Send your questions to: Bill.Hendricks@ABCCR.org | Call: 913-558-3311

Q: David, from Overland Park asked:
"I have been called to the ministry. I have talked with my pastor, studied and prayed for several years. Is it possible I could serve as an Interim Minister or maybe be considered a candidate for a church in the Central Region?"

A: David, your Christ driven call is exactly what a pastor prays for... Let me explain:

Sheep reproduce sheep. Pastors reproduce pastors. Pastors care for sheep. They provide safety and nourishment for sheep. They help sheep grow and prosper. They find and nurture lost sheep, they motivate and correct sheep. The pastor can even create an environment that is favorable to sheep reproduction. But the result is always sheep. Sheep reproduce more sheep!

When God calls someone to be a Pastor, significant transformation ensues. The Central Region (ABCCR) needs pastors. People like you, David, whom God has called. People who have been given a heart for caring about sheep. People who know the Shepherd, Jesus Christ, and have made adoration of God their priority and caring for sheep their priority.

When God sets someone apart, like you, to become a pastor, the need for discipleship, support, and advocacy surge. That's the purpose of the Central Region. That's the reason our churches affiliate and covenant together. That's why we have a committee called RCOM and that's why we have pastor's conferences and Clergy Groups who meet regularly.

In 2022, the Interim Ministry program is creating a series of pastoral service workshops for those who are called to serve beyond the local church. So again, David, we are looking for you. If you are called (or think you're called) to be a Pastor, or if you are someone who might be interested, please contact me.

Q: Maggie, from Garnett, Kansas asked: As a woman, can I serve in the ABCCR?

A: Maggie, your question lands in the crease of faith, life, and practice in the ABCCR.

We have many God called and spirit led females who are ordained. We have less churches who will accept a female pastor. To answer your question, Maggie, like answering all theological topics, falls to the local church. There is no ABC-CR authority to direct, command or require a church to opt for one side of this decision or the other, which causes some problems:

1st- Most churches do not engage well when there is conflict, or potential conflict. As a result, our churches have stealth beliefs (beliefs that operate under the radar) and are not discussed. The church does not really know if they allow women in ministry, they just know that to talk about it will be a problem. So, we never reconcile what it means to be a woman in leadership. Sunday School teacher? Women's Missions? Youth Leader? Worship Leader? Scripture Reader? Pastor? Associate Pastor? Often, we allow some of these leadership roles but not others. Often with very a murky understanding of Scripture and why we allow what we allow.

2nd- Some people do not take a position. They wait to see what decision is made. They hide in their beliefs and then leave the church or argue after a decision. Often, they follow a group of friends or a power base, as opposed to having a complete study and discussion that allows an informed decision to be made by the whole church.

3rd- Some of our churches do not know how to study or maturely discuss with free give and take. They get angry and threaten to leave even before a good discussion and study occur. Interestingly, this threat is far less Biblical than either side, pro, or con, on the issue.

4th- As conflict escalates, churches often ask the ABCCR to help. Some immediately reject Region involvement, others expect the staff to take control and direct them. We want to moderate and facilitate impartial discussion and study. We will enable good, clear understandings, but we will not tell either side what is right.

Women in ministry is defined by two competing Biblical opinions, both written by the same person. A church can accept that the Bible contradicts itself – not a core Baptist tenant. We can ignore one verse or the other – not a core Baptist practice. Or we can realize that for 2000 years these passages have existed, and there just may be a deeper meaning than what we see. I encourage you to adopt this posture and read every book you can for both sides. Find the points of dialog and then ask three very basic questions:

- Can our study, conversation and faith allow God's spirit to lead our church in a healthy, prolonged, and non-destructive?
- Can we create temporary or trial projects that will allow us to see where God might bless?
- Can we find a level of Christian love, the kind that allowed Jews and Gentiles to work together in the early church, that helps the church realize its call to reach out in redemptive manner?

Maggie, that may have been longer than you desire, but you need to understand this is a question some have wrestled with, some have made up their mind and others are still trying to reconcile. The staff of the ABCCR will work with you any church to find answers.

If you are in a hurry, we can point you toward churches who will embrace you and your beliefs, but if you would like to dive deeply into this question, we can connect you with resources and studies on both sides of the issue. How can we help you? Call us:

ABCUSA Major Offerings

American Baptist Churches USA plans their giving around four major offerings during the calendar year. The first of these is collected during the month of March and it is known as the "America for Christ" offering. When you give to it you help to do so many things like support communities through the covid-19 crisis, help families who have lost homes and items due to wildfires, tornadoes, floods and other storms. Your gift also helps children who are on the edge of poverty or living in it to participate in programs that provide vital support and care for them. This offering also helps seminarians, who are studying for ministry, as they prepare to become pastors, chaplains, youth ministers and missionaries.

While the new adventure I am embarking on in "planned giving" is not exactly the same as the offering mentioned above, you also have the opportunity to support our wonderful mission partners (as I am calling them) such as: ABW, AB Men, Bacone College, Bethel Neighborhood Center, Camp Christy, Central Seminary and Murrow Children's Home, plus your local church, just to name a few. When you take out a charitable gift annuity, you have the opportunity to help sustain and strengthen these and many other ministries in our region and we are grateful for your gift!

I look forward to seeing you at the senior adult retreat in April. If I can be of any help to you in the meantime for a charitable gift annuity or other Investments, please don't hesitate to call or email me. I am happy to help you in any way that I can.

Since March is Women's History Month, let us say prayers of thanksgiving for our American Baptist Women's Ministries of the Central region, which is celebrating 102 years of ministry and continues to bless so many with their mission projects. Let's pray that they will reach their goal this year and pray about how we can support them.

Let us also pray for Women in Ministry, our group of ministers, that God will strengthen & encourage them as they preach the gospel and serve in their churches & communities.

Let us pray for all women who are abused, battered, undervalued, overworked and houseless that we might help them find Jesus' love and peace and that we might do our part to help them in practical ways to begin life anew.

Finally, let us praise God for the women in our lives, who have gone before us and who are still with us, that have shown us love in many ways and helped us grow in Christ!

Might we be open to the Holy Spirit's leading as we pray and be reminded of the words of Mary in the scripture:

"Here am I, the servant of the Lord; let it be with me according to your word." Luke 1:38 (NRSV)

How To Handle Difficult Church Members

By Rev. Dr. William Hendricks; ABCCR Director Interim Ministries

Dr. Hendricks spent 5 years studying conflict as part of his D.Min. He created the seminar, "How to Handle Difficult People" that was presented in 5 countries and to more than 100,000 people.

The Dirty Dozen pose a significant problem in the church today. Throughout this series I have stressed three key points that drive our interactions with them...

1. Most people are different. A few are truly difficult and warrant special attention.
2. Different or Difficult, the Dirty Dozens' attitude and actions do not excuse or allow me to put my Christian faith and practice on hold.
3. The Dirty Dozen adversely impact my ability to pursue cooler minds. They derail most everything.

THE DIRTY DOZEN

Angry Members	Stubborn Members	Clueless Members	Deal Maker Members	Shy & Passive Members	VIP Members
Henny Penny Members	Skeptic Members	Frazzled Members	Debbie Downer Members	Drippy Sweet Members	Misinformed Members

I must add a fourth negative aspect as we continue to look at the Dirty Dozen. It's important to realize "Our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms." (Ephesians 6:12) Unfortunately, many in church today have adopted an attitude of 'I will just leave,' or possibly 'I will find another church.' I must be reminded...

- The early church, the church of Scriptures, did not pack up and leave! They were family. They were in this for life and beyond.
- "God did not send his Son into the world to condemn the world, but to save the world through him." (John 3:17) The Dirty Dozen provoke judgment and escalate conflict. They rarely offer redemption.
- People are watching, both the children in our church and the community outside our doors. We create our church's culture through our actions. Reactions to the Dirty Dozen matter. With this said let's look at the last four of the Dirty Dozen. These four have some significant similarities.

These four members of the Dirty Dozen add little and have an amazing ability to marginalize the problem. Handling these characters is a challenge.

Clueless – Plays dumb and contributes no information. They can turn a one-hour meeting into three hours by asking question, after question. They do not move toward resolution. They do 're-plow' known content, many times.

Frazzled – Shows up late and regularly forgets papers, notes that are needed or something as simple as an ink pen. They have five excuses of why they're late and they tell you about them. They are the only person in the world who is busy.

Drippy Sweet – Marginalizes other people by making everything 'Gooney/Sappy phrases.' They jump in with strained sympathy, false compliments, and a true lack of sincerity. Their suggestions to think good thoughts and pray ring hollow.

Misinformed – Brings undocumented information and rumor as if it is true. In many cases, they 'Troll' for reactions. They stir the pot and add ingredients that have no value. And they can cause a group to go down innumerable rabbit holes.

How do we handle these four characters?

1st- Don't stop: Re-start or Correct them.

- If late, they can read the minutes.
- If uninformed offer to help them 'one on one' later.
- Manage their airtime... create a policy of 5-minute 'mic time' for everyone.

2nd- Remember, the agenda is your best friend. When one of these four captures the floor, ask the group, "Do we want to add another 5 or 10 minutes to the agenda or should we move on?" The habit of creating a good agenda (with time limits) becomes mandatory if you have these 4 characters.

3rd- Create a process that sorts truth, half-truth and falsity... and make it visible. You must capture ground and build on it – get people to recognize realities and emphasize truth.

4th- Avoid polarization. As the Interim (or moderator) don't become identified on one side or the other. Become the point of impartiality for as long as possible.

If one of the Dirty Dozen is knocking on the door of your church, right now. Or if you would just like to talk through some challenges, please feel free to give me a call.

Conquering Idleness

In Proverbs 10:4, Solomon writes “A slack hand causes poverty, but the hand of the diligent makes rich.” Often as a person transitions from busy work life in to retirement, many look forward to a slower pace of life. A time to focus on hobbies or things they enjoy. Others, find that they are idle with not as much to do anymore. Others become lonely or lack a feeling of purpose to their day.

At Prairie Homestead, our seniors have the opportunity to engage in many opportunities, as Solomon would say, “to be diligent with their hands”. Relationships are built by neighbors helping neighbors. Some volunteer to fill needs on campus. A workshop and dedicated craft room allow creativity to flow. A newly renovated exercise room and exercise classes keep bodies strong and healthy. The 26 acre campus with pond offers beautiful scenery to enjoy during walks or bike riding. Mealtime is full of fellowship but most importantly nutritious and delicious foods. Activities range from trivia to keep the mind sharpened to Bible study to grow spiritually. Even coffee and conversations with friends in the Towne Square can brighten an otherwise dreary day.

No matter where you call home, we encourage you to avoid idleness. With technology, it is easy to get lost in television. It is easy to let days slip by. Idleness can lead to weakened bodies, weakened immune systems, declining mental health, and a declining quality of life.

We encourage you to follow Solomon’s advice and avoid “a slack hand”. God has given each of us another day to glorify Him, and we encourage you to make the best of it! You are always invited to join us for activities or a meal here at Prairie Homestead. We encourage you to find ways for your life to be rich and full!

ABCCR Camping Coordinator for 2022

Brandon Pitt has been in vocational ministry for 6 years and has been blessed with living all around the country. He was born in Honolulu, but mainly grew up in San Diego and Colorado Springs where he fell in love with snorkeling, skiing, hiking, biking pretty much anything outdoors!

Both of his parents still reside in Colorado, while his sister is attending Southwest Baptist University and he is living in Lebo KS as a Youth and Contemporary Teaching Pastor. He has graduated from Manhattan Christian College with a B.S. in Pastoral Ministries and Counseling.

He is a couple credit hours away from a M.A. in Christian Ministry with the intent to pursue a Ph.D. in Biblical Exposition. He is thrilled to lead and cast vision for this region in camping as it is near and dear to his heart.

ABCCR Event Coordinator for 2022

Rev. Melissa Newberry currently serves as the Pastor of Grandview Baptist Church, Kansas City, KS. She has also served as Associate Pastor for College and Youth at FBC Emporia. Her regional involvement began during her youth through various events including YLC, ABY, and Braving Discipleship. It was during this time, while attending her home church (FBC McPherson) that the call to leadership and broader Kingdom involvement was placed in her heart.

Throughout the past three decades, Melissa has had the joy of serving as Capital Campaign Chair for Cross Wind, Secretary for the Minister's Council, and Adjunct Region Staff. Presently, her leadership involvement includes serving as President for ABWMCR, member of the ABCCR Board of Directors and as the East Central Rep for RCOM. She is a graduate of the University of Sioux Falls and Central Baptist Theological Seminary.

Throughout this broader Kingdom involvement, she recognizes the movement of the Holy Spirit as a second-generation ABC Minister, a third generation ABWM participant, and through every person whom God has chosen to be a vital part of such. Melissa finds great delight in spending time with her friends, her family, reading, vacationing, and partaking of really good coffee whenever possible.
